But her friends forced her to. After reaching the place, she went to the benches where the potted plants were displayed. Revathi was shocked. There was her pot of plants on a bench, with the name of distant neighbors of hers as the competitor written on a small piece of cardboard and placed in the soil. She knew it was her pot of plants. She went to the organisers of the show and told them about it. The organisers were not convinced. They said, "How can you prove that the plants are yours? The lady who submitted them is a regular participant . How can we doubt her?" Revathi wondered how to convince them. She sat there for a few minutes looking at the plants. The sight of the plants bending towards her while she played her violin flashed across her mind. She told the organisers that she could prove the plants were hers and ran home. When she returned a few minutes later with her violin, they started laughing. But their ridicule did not deter her from her mission. She told them, "I know my plants and I share a secret with them. My plants are music lovers like me and you could see how they respond when I play to them." They all laughed louder saying that they had never heard of plants enjoying music. They asked her, "Do plants have ears like us to enjoy your music?" No one believed her. She felt very dejected but was determined to win her plants back. Explain what was Revathi's mission? Q.1.
